

Phil Sawford MP

SERVING THE KETTERING CONSTITUENCY - WORKING FOR YOU

A Report from Parliament

Speaking up for the Kettering Constituency

Since he was first elected in 1997 as Member of Parliament for the Kettering Constituency Phil Sawford has established a reputation as a tough, energetic campaigner for local people.

Phil believes in keeping in touch with his constituents and this report sets out some of the things he has been doing on your behalf.

As a local man he makes no apology for concentrating his attention on local issues. Of course there are national and international matters, such as the Gulf War, where he is not afraid to speaking out, but he sees his role as being your representative at Westminster, not Westminster's representative in Kettering.

He says - 'My job is to find out what we need in our community and campaign to ensure that we get our fair share of available resources'.

If you have a personal problem, a point of view or concerns about wider issues your Member of Parliament is there to listen and to help.
